When do you need to start to make changes for optimal longevity in your body? The answer to this question is usually after you realize you are doing something wrong or if something is causing you harm. Many of us know what we should be doing to help ourselves, but it takes a lot of focused and determined effort to change. We fall victim to our own biology, our culture, our emotions, our experience, and a myriad of other influences that help keep us from our optimal health and longevity. Most of us don't realize how far our problems can run before we decide to do something about it. The cycle of our destructive

Jordy Nelson is finished with rehabbing his right knee and will be ready for the start of the 2017 season, per a report from Bob McGinn of the Milwaukee Journal-Sentinel. Nelson has spent the last three months rehabbing his knee after suffering a torn ACL in November. The veteran wide receiver now is aiming to return to the field for the 2017 campaign. “I feel healthy,” Nelson told the Journal-Sentinel. “I am ready to go.” Nelson suffered the injury while blocking on a kickoff return in the third quarter of the Raiders’ Week 11 matchup against the Bills. He has not missed a game in his NFL career, playing in all 76 contests over his five-year career. Nelson has 74 catches for 856 yards and three touchdowns this season, leading the Raiders in each category. He is second in the NFL in receptions and fourth in yards. The Raiders placed Nelson on injured reserve on October 31 after he did not fully recover from the injury. Related Raiders WR Jordy Nelson Removed From IR, Getting Ready For 2017 Season the first day of the Black Friday and Cyber Monday sales, the company announced that it was offering a 4G LTE model for $150. If
